

PLACES TO VISIT IN ITALY

Trevi Fountain in Rome

Trevi Fountain is known as a place to throw in a coin to secure a return trip to Rome, and throwing two coins can secure a loving relationship with a Roman man or woman. At night, the fountain is illuminated, making it a magical and romantic place to visit.

Capri

The island of Capri is just three miles from Naples, but it is a unique destination with its own culture and atmosphere. After arriving by boat, visitors often flock to the Blue Grotto, a spectacular cave that has been appreciated since Roman times.

The Grand Canal, Venice

The Grand Canal is the largest among those numerous passageways. It has the most beautiful of the palaces situated by its sides. These palaces belong to some of the wealthiest families and date back from the 13th to the 18th century.

Lake Como

Lake Como is part of the Italian Lake District an area popular with visitors for well over 100 years for its combination of fresh air, water, mountains and good weather. The lake is shaped much like an inverted 'Y', with two branches starting at Como in the south-west and Lecco in the south-east, which join together half way up and the lake continues up to Colico in the north.

Tuscany

Tuscany is a region in central Italy. Its capital, Florence, is home to some of the world's most recognizable Renaissance art and architecture, including Michelangelo's "David" statue, Botticelli's works in the Uffizi Gallery and the Duomo basilica. Its diverse natural landscape encompasses the rugged Apennine Mountains, the island of Elba's beaches on the Tyrrhenian Sea and Chianti's olive groves and vineyards.
